ONLY ONE VOTE.

A Formal Ballot at Frankfort Again Today.

A UNIVERSITY SENSATION.

Globe Savings Bank, of Chicago, Falls.

PHIL DEER ASSASSINATED IN INDIANA.

Frankfort, March 5.—The legislature made no effort to elect a United States Senator this morning, only a formal ballot of one vote for each candidate was cast. Any predictions as to what will or will not be done are merely gratuitous guesses that can not be depended on. A strong effort is making to disrupt his following, but whether it will be successful or not no one can tell.

Judge Feland, just returned from Washington, says President McKinley has lately said he will certainly give nothing to Kentucky applicants as long as this senatorial fight remains unsettled.

A PLAGIARIST.

Will Stuart Winner of the Oratorical Prize Last Friday Is Said to Lie.

Lexington, April 4th.—There is great excitement at a university circle over the charge that Will Stuart, winner of the prize in Friday's oratorical contest, is a plagiarist. The charge is badly made by friends of his opponents and will be investigated.

ALTGOLD'S BANK FAILS.

Globe Savings, of Chicago, Closes Its Doors.

Chicago, April 5.—The Globe Savings bank, located at the corner of Dearborn and Jackson streets, closed its doors this morning as the result of a run that had been in progress the latter part of last week. The paid-up capital of this bank was $200,000. It was organized some years ago by ex-Gov. Altgold and he was formerly vice president of it. A late statement gave its deposits of about $650,000, surplus and undivided profits over $20,000.

BANKRUPTCY BILL.

Has Right of Way in the Senate This Week.

Washington, April 5.—The bankruptcy bill will be given first place in the Senate program this week. It will give way to the appropriation bills after Tuesday if the Committee on Appropriations reports them as is expected and urges consideration. Senator Lindley will open the debate on the bankruptcy bill in its favor, and it is presumed that Senator Nelson will follow in opposition.

THE JOHN HART BURNED

On the Cumberland River.—Vessel and Cargo a Total Loss.

Struck a Log and Stove Overturned—No Fatalities.

Nashville, April 5.—The Cumberland river packet John W. Hart was burned and sunk with all her cargo at Craville Landing this morning. Striking a large log, the stove was overturned, and the flames quickly spread, enveloping the vessel so quickly that to save it was impossible. Vessel and cargo were a total loss. There were fortunately no fatalities.

APPOINTMENTS TODAY.

Hums Distributed By President McKinley.

Washington, April 5.—The President today sent to the senate a number of important appointments in the diplomatic service, among them Alfred Burk, to be Minister to Japan; James Boyle, of Ohio, Consul at Liverpool, England; E. S. Dye, of New Hampshire, consul at Bradford, England; Fulton McCreery, of Michigan, Secretary of Legation to Mexico. There were also included a number of minor appointments.

Bridge Collapses.—Pittsburgh, April 5.—A wooden bridge on the outskirts of the city collapsed as a freight train was passing over it this morning, with the result that three trainmen were killed.

STILL WORSE

Grows the Situation Hourly on the Lower Mississippi.

NEW BREAKS NEAR HELENA.

Thousands of Refugees Huddled Upon the Levees.

SUFFERING AND DISTRESS APPALLING

Memphis, Tenn., April 5.—Another disastrous break in the Mississippi levee occurred this morning at 8 o'clock at Flower Lake, six miles below Tunica, Miss. The levee, fifteen feet high, was fully fifteen feet deep, and the water is pouring through the opening with fearful velocity. This will probably be the most destructive break that has occurred in the delta. The most fertile farm lands of Mississippi, lying in Coshocton, La Flore, Quitman and Tallahatche counties, in the northern part of the state, will be inundated and the newly planted corn crops will be laid in waste.

Fortunately no loss of life is reported, the inhabitants of the stricken section having made preparations for just such a catastrophe as exists there today.

The condition of the poorer classes throughout the flooded area is indeed critical tonight. Thousands of refugees are being huddled on the levees and spots of land, waiting for relief. The towns of Rosedale and Tunica report that everything possible is being done for these poor people, but that funds and provisions are fast becoming exhausted. In the little city of Rosedale alone 1,200 refugees are being cared for by the citizens.

Half a hundred towns tonight stand six feet of water and the yellow stream is creeping up slowly but surely.

Advices received tonight tell of a break in the levee two miles south of Helena, Ark. This is the levee for which the people of Southeastern Arkansas have made such a desperate fight. The waters from this break will flood a great area and in all probability will back up into the streets of Helena.

The relief steamer Ora Lee arrived at Marianna, Ark., late this afternoon, having made an expedition up the St. Francis river. There were on board 160 refugees and 200 head of cattle. The steamer went up the St. Francis river as far as Cut Off and then worked her way down stream, rescuing people from perilous positions.

The suffering along the St. Francis river is appalling. The water throughout the entire neighboring country is tonight from six to fifteen feet deep. The relief boat had on board the body of Mrs. McMain, of Raggin and it was taken to Marianna for burial, there being no land at the former place on which to land it.

The St. Francis is rising from three to five inches daily.

At Memphis tonight the river is slowly rising again, the gauge registering 36.4 feet. This is a rise of one-tenth since last report. At points below Vicksburg the river is rising. It is the general opinion of old river men here if the levees below Vicksburg hold the great volume of water in its regular channel, it will be little short of a miracle.

WEYLER'S TACTICS.

Denunciation of His Campaign in Cuba.

No Nearer Success Than When He First Began.

New York, April 4.—C. E. Akers, who has for two years been the London Times correspondent at Havana, has a four-column letter in the World in which he declares that the worst horrors of Crete and Armenia are equaled by Spanish barbarities in Cuba, and that it is the moral duty of the United States to stop the war.

Mr. Akers says: "The end of the dry season is now at hand, and Spain has accomplished little toward the pacification of Cuba. Certain gains have most certainly fallen to the Spaniards, the death of Maceo in December and the capture of Rius Rivera a few days ago being the most notable. But at what cost has the campaign been conducted? The provinces of Pinar del Rio and the vast and large portions of Matanzas and Santa Clara are one staring mass of cinders.

"Devastation and extermination meet the eye at every point, ruin in the present, famine, disease and death in the future, are all that the Cubans can hope for while Cuba remains under Spanish rule.

"Under these circumstances I do not think that the death of this or that leader can bring victory any nearer to the Spanish arms. Where one such man as Rivera is lost to the insurgents a hundred spring up to take his place.

"Moreover, it must not be forgotten that this guerrilla warfare needs not any great military genius to conduct it. It is to a very great extent every man for himself and the devil take the hindmost. The only object in view is to keep the country in such a condition of unrest as to make imperative the presence of an enormous army of occupation. Small parties of fifty or 100 men scattered throughout the island can do this more effectively than a concentrated force of 20,000 men, upon which the Spanish commander-in-chief would at once mass greater numbers, equipped with superior armament.

Gen. Weyler's policy of extermination and devastation is nothing short of the almost insane working of an ignorant and completely unbalanced mind. To kill peaceful people on the technicality that they have neglected to obey the order to leave their homes and take up their residence in some town where no means of subsistence exist is inexcusable. To devastate the whole island of Cuba on the plea that by so doing all supplies will be shut off from the rebels only demonstrates the dense ignorance under which the Spanish general is laboring.

"The rebels can get food enough to live on for another ten years if necessary, while the cattle alone now roaming wild in the different districts will supply the insurgents with beef for at least a couple of years to come.

"As for the foreigners resident in Cuba, they have not one feeling with regard to Weyler's methods of conducting the military operations. They consider Weyler and his actions as a reflex of the worst barbarities of the middle ages, far more brutal, indeed, than many of the most severe means employed by the holy inquisition to attain its ends.

"And can they be blamed for passing such judgment on this fiend incarnate in human shape? Is there any precedent, advocated by God or man, that justifies the wholesale slaughter of innocent men, women and children on no other pretext than that they refuse to leave their homes and willingly submit to die slowly of strangulation in such places as Weyler may order.

"The object of Weyler's present policy is to exterminate the Cuban people—a people composed of some 1,200,000 whites and 500,000 negroes or of mixed blood.

"To kill every peaceful inhabitant of the country is one of Weyler's methods and to drive the women and children into the towns to die of hunger is another.

"Not in one single case since Consul General Lee assumed the duties of the Havana consulate have any prisoners been accorded the privileges they are entitled to under the Spanish-American treaty and protocols. Gen. Lee states that his efforts to obtain the full treaty rights for American were invariably thwarted by instructions emanating from Mr. Olney, in Washington.

"If it may be permitted to give one word of advice to the people of this great country, it is to leave Armenia and the Turks to be dealt with by the European powers, and attend to their own Armenia, that lies but a stone's throw from their own shores."

TWO BREAKS NEAR HELENA.

Large Number of Refugees Picked Up by the Relief Steamers.

Helena, Ark., April 5.—The expected has happened. After weary days and nights of watching, working and waiting, after fighting the flood from without, the winds and rain from above and the sipe water and back water from behind, the levees have gone to pieces. Yesterday morning at 7 o'clock the Williamson levee, two miles below this city, gave way at a point 1000 feet north of the Long Lake levee. It ran inconceivably short time the crevasse was 250 feet wide. At first it was confined to a depth of about three feet, which is the height of the superficial crown, but gradually it was worn away the main levee, and is now running through to a depth of eighteen feet. The Long Lake levee, which has a base of about 300 feet and is forty feet high, is also in danger. It corresponds in size and importance with the Yazoo Pass levee, which is nearly opposite it. If the levee should go it would precipitate a prodigious volume of water on the rich places along Long Lake. As it is, the loss is stupendous.

It is safe to say that over 60,000 bushels of corn are lost and damaged by this break, in addition to the great loss of cotton seed, hay, etc. With the exception of two mules and several head of cattle, no loss of stock so far is reported.

VERY SHREWD

Swindler Buys Goods for the Harbor-Pitts Company.

DEFAUDS BOSTON FIRMS.

Purchases About $15,000 Worth of Goods, and Forges Mr. Wm. Morton's Name.

HIS IDENTITY IS SUSPECTED.

A shrewd swindler has been detected in his attempted frauds against the Harbor-Pitts Shoe Company. Within the past two or three days he has purchased from five different firms in Boston nearly $15,000 worth of goods, consisting of shoes, etc., nearly all of which have been shipped to the Harbor-Pitts company here since Friday. Mr. Harbour, when the duplicate orders or memoranda were received, promptly notified the respective houses that no such orders were authorized by the company, but most of the goods had already been filled, and the houses will now be at a great expense to defray freight.

Mr. Harbour was very much astonished when he ascertained that thousands of dollars worth of goods that he had never ordered and knew nothing about were being consigned to him. One house telegraphed for a verification of the order, and Mr. Harbour promptly replied by wire that no such order was authorized. This is the only house that did not ship the goods on order of the swindler.

Some light was shed on the mystery this morning, however, when a draft was presented on the company, with the name "Thomas Morton" attached.

Mr. Morton is a well known resident of Paducah, and was formerly connected with the company, and it was at once seen that someone had forged his name to the check.

The perpetrator's scheme is very evident, and quite ingenious. He claimed to be a representative of the Harbor-Pitts Company, bought thousands of dollars worth of goods and then, claiming to be short of funds, had the accommodating firm cash a draft for him, which was not a hard matter.

The draft he then made on the company, forging Mr. Morton's name to it. How many of these drafts and checks he succeeded in getting money on is unknown, but it is probable that he defrauded several different firms.

His identity is unknown, but he is supposed to be E. C. Carmany, who was foreman of the company here about two years ago, and after leaving Paducah worked a somewhat similar scheme in St. Louis by purchasing $10,000 worth of machinery for a fictitious firm here.

NEED LABORERS.

Fifty Wanted Today But Only Twenty-Five Found.

They Were Taken to Ripley, Tenn., by the I. C. Crowd at the City Hall.

At noon today an Illinois Central section foreman left on the south-bound train for Ripley, Tenn., with twenty-five colored laborers, to lay seventy-five-pound steel rails in the yard there instead of the rails now used.

It was his intention to take fifty men down, but only twenty-five could be found who would go. Officer Sutherland addressed a crowd of fifty or seventy-five at the city hall this morning from the steps, and told them that fifty were wanted and would be paid $1 a day, but it seems few of them cared to go.

The crowd at the city hall early this morning was quite large, the men having been told that the city wanted men to work on the streets. Street Inspector Cosby, however, could use but half a dozen of them.

Pensacola, Fla., April 5.—The new fortifications on Santa Rosa island at the entrance to the harbor are about completed, and the government has discharged about 300 of the men who have been at work on them for many months. The two young men had an altercation and Carlton drew his revolver and fired four shots into Jones, killing him almost instantly. He then fled, but officers are in pursuit of him, and it is thought that he cannot escape.

This matter had been overlooked, and when the newly appointed supervisors met today Mayor Yeiser instructed them to wait until the council accepted the assessor's books. This was done at the called meeting this morning, and the books were then turned over to the supervisors.

"SNAKE" WADE

Cut His Wife About Noon Today.

Is Now in Jail on Two Felony Charges.

Charles Wade, alias "Snake," is again in durance vile. He was arrested about 1:30 this afternoon at Fourth and Washington streets by Marshal Collins, who slipped up on the artful dodger by concealing himself on a street car. Wade cut his wife, Annie Wade, in the lower part of the back about noon today at their home in Hoffman's alley. He came in Saturday on the City of Paducah and succeeded in eluding the officers, being wanted for cutting Adeline Morton a few months ago. The woman appeared at the city hall bleeding profusely, and City Physician Williamson sewed up the wound, which is not dangerous. The woman claims that she started to the dressmakers when Wade, who was drunk, started a quarrel, and pursued her to the door, thrusting his knife into her before she could open it. He was locked up to await trial.

"THE FAST MAIL."

At Morton's Opera House Next Wednesday Night.

Wednesday evening at Morton's opera house, Lincoln J. Carter's scenic melodrama, "The Fast Mail," will be the attraction.

As its name indicates, it deals largely with the railroad in its incidents, but it presents an abundance of effects that are daring in their magnitude and admirable in their execution. The steam train is said to be a wonder of clever conception and masterly mechanical work, and the railroad scene, with its trains going at a terrific rate of speed, makes the stage seem like a piece of reality.

The Niagara Falls scene is wonderfully beautiful, and it may safely be said is more elaborate than anything of the kind ever before attempted. There are a multitude of minor effects that contribute to make the performance a revelation of realism.

The whistle, bell and splashing are heard as the boat leaves the wharf. The sounds that tell of an approaching train herald the approach of the freight and the fast mail train—the latter rushing by with people gazing from the window at the heroine, who has just saved her lover's life by fastening a letter to the mail coach. The roaring of Niagara Falls is heard and the mist that rises from it is shown vividly.

MARVELOUS ESCAPE

Of Jeff Nall and His Family of Four.

"Cannon-Ball" Struck His Wagon and Not One Was Hurt.

Conductor Sewell came in at noon on the Illinois Central passenger from Louisville, and reports a miraculous escape Jeff Nall and his family had a day or two ago at Otter Creek, above here.

"I was in charge of 204," the Conductor said in a conversation in the lunch room, "with Engineer Gray in the cab."

Nall and his family, consisting of a wife and three children, were in a two horse wagon and we struck them while they were trying to cross the track. We were going forty miles an hour, and the pilot struck the wagon exactly in the middle. But not a scratch did a single one of them receive."

"We went about a quarter of a mile, stopped and backed, and I expected to find them all dead, but found Nall and his family gathering themselves up, not a bit the worse for their adventure."

"There wasn't enough of the wagon left to make a toothpick of, but not a single one of the occupants of the wagon was injured in the least. It was the most marvelous escape I ever heard of, and I don't believe one like it would occur again in a thousand years."
